Tourist Attraction

The Taj Mahal was the most visited ticketed monument by domestic visitors at about 4.4 million in financial year 2020. This monument is a famous UNESCO world heritage site which was commissioned by Shah Jahan in 1631, as a mausoleum for his wife, Mumtaz Mahal.

It is a masterpiece of architectural style in conception, treatment and execution and has unique aesthetic qualities in balance, symmetry and harmonious blending of various elements. Integrity is maintained in the intactness of tomb, mosque, guest house, main gate and the whole Taj Mahal complex

The Gateway of India is an arch monument built during the 20th century in Bombay, India. The monument was erected to commemorate the landing of King George V and Queen Mary at Apollo Bunder on their visit to India in 1911.

Apollo Bunder was used as a jetty in earlier days and later renovated to literally act as the 'gateway to India'. As the name signifies, this monument served as an entrance point to India for the British Viceroys.

Qutub Minar is undoubtedly the most remarkable heritage site of India with an enormous tourist attraction. Built by Qutb-ud-din Aibak, this is the world's tallest brick minaret with a height of 72.5 metres (237.8 ft). Qutub Minar is notable for being the earliest and most prominent example of Indo-Islamic architecture.

But we have more than a few reasons why it enjoys the status of being one of the must-visit tourist attractions in Delhi. 1. Standing tall at 73 m, the Qutub Minar is the tallest brick minaret in the world. It is also a UNESCO World Heritage Site.

Virangam is the foremost of the eight self-manifested shrines (Swayam Vyakta Kshetras) of Lord Vishnu . It is also considered the first and the most important of the 108 main Vishnu temples (Divyadesams). This temple is also known as Thiruvavur Tirupati, Periyakoil, Bhooloka Vaikundam, Bhogamandabam.

One of the finest is the Hall of 1000 pillars (actually 953), an example of a planned theatre-like structure. Made of granite, it was constructed during the Vijayanagaraperiod (1336–1565).
